Background

Sid Werner practices in the areas of estate planning and probate, real estate litigation, and commercial transactions and is on the executive committee of the firm. Over a legal career that has spanned more than 39 years, he has enjoyed assisting a great number of people in formulating their estate plans, from simple wills to more complex documentation, and has handled the administration of trust and probate estates on behalf of many families and friends of clients and others who passed away. In addition, he has provided lender representation for commercial and residential foreclosures, litigated commercial Landlord tenant matters, participated in boundary and survey dispute litigation, handled class action quiet title suits, negotiated and drafted a wide variety of commercial contracts, served as a securities arbitrator, represented clients in securities broker malfeasance actions, and provided representation in corporate negotiations and litigation.

Mr. Werner is a past Campaign Chairman of the Pinellas County Jewish Federation, past president of both Congregations B'nai Israel of St. Petersburg, Florida and Congregation Beth Chai of Seminole, Florida, and past president of the Seminole Center of the Y.M.C.A
